ENTRIES NUMEROUS IN ANIMAL PARADE FRIDAY MORNING

WUHS Band, Scouts and Camp Fire Girls To Be In Event

Mounting interest and the steady entry of new animals this week, bids to make Niles Pet Parade, slated for tomorrow morning at 9:00, an hilarious and outstanding event.

Thought up by E. Dixon Bristow, grammar school principal, to supplement the Latham Foundation program for teaching children the value of kindness to animals, the parade tomorrow has taken the children's fancy, and multitudes of animals will march and wrangle on First street. Among the latest entries are a pig, a calf and a burro, not to mention hosts of cats, dogs, rabbits, chickens, et alia.

Prizes, to be awarded on the judgment of competent judges, have been purchased by members of the Parent-Teachers' Association with funds donated by the chamber of commerce and other groups in the town.

The parade will form at the grammar school at 9:00 a. m. It will march down second street and return up First street.

To add to the day, Principal Rathbone, of Washington Union High school, has promised that the high school band will be out in full force. The boy scouts and campfire girls will also be in the line of march.

It is the opinion of citizens of the town, that much hilarity will be derived from the spectacle, and a huge turnout is expected.

Much commt has been passed concerning the mysterious entry

BOY SCOUT WEEK SLATED TO BEGIN SATURDAY; FUND DRIVE STARTS TUESDAY

Great Time Predicted For District Rally November 3

Following the example of other areas, where the value of brevity has been proven, authorities in charge of Boy Scout Fund Drive in Washington township this year have decided to shorten the period of the drive to four days, from October 31 to November 4.

According to E. Dixon Bristow, local chairman, the drive will take the form of a township-wide canvass, all fraternal, religious and civic organizations to be asked to contribute, as well as individuals in the district.

All organizations will be asked to send representatives to the "kick-off" meeting slated for October 31 at W. U. H. S., Centerville. Pledge cards will be sent out, to be returned to the central committee with the donation made.

Declaring the cause one of the most meritorious, Bristow told of the value of scouting, and of the growth of it during the past year in Alameda county. From May, 1932, to the present time there has been a 50 per cent increase in the membership. Bristow added that no part of the salaries of County Scout officials is paid by this district. In making his plea to the public, Bristow said that all should feel it incumbent upon himself to give what he can to the fund.

Dr. Ben W. Black, medical director for all of Alameda county, and a member of the Boy Scout board of directors, will be the speaker at the "Kick-off" meet at the Washington Union High school next Tuesday night.

The Washington township district rally, slated to be the high spot in the local program, will take place at the Washington Union High school, Friday, November 3, at 7:29 p. m. An evening of fine, clean entertainment that everyone is sure to enjoy, the meet will draw a large attendance. Among the various contests and displays put on by the scouts will be: Flag displays, knot tying, signalling, song contests, fire-by-friction, fire-by-flint and steel, undressing race and yell contest.

Boy scout week, set aside each year to bring the value of scouting before the public, begins Saturday, to continue until the following Saturday. During this time the American boy scout comes into his own as a growing citizen.

CAR DEMOLISHES STORE FRONT AFTER RACE INTO NILES

Child Nearly Run Down As Oakland Driver Loses Control

Plate glass, oil stoves and splinters flew on First street Monday afternoon, when a car driven by C. Elm Trost, of 1811 Twenty-seventh avenue, Oakland, out of control and at a high rate of speed etched a streak of rubber across the highway and smashed into the front of Alberg's hardware store. Alberg's small daughter, Nevis, was standing in front of the store at the time. She missed death by inches.

Trost, driver of the car, was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch, on a charge of reckless driving.

Witnesses say that Trost, racing another machine into the town, attempted to pass on the wrong side. The slight turn in the road and loose dirt at the road edge, threw Trost's car into a skid. Careering upon two wheels, it whirled across the street and demolished the store front. Trost was cut and bruised in the impact.

Fleeing from the scene, the car with which Trost is alleged to have been racing, disappeared. The name of its driver was not learned.

A humorous incident connected with the crash occurred immediately after, when Ed. Rose climbed into Trost's car to remove it from the sidewalk. Several bystanders, arriving just at that moment, failed to recognize Ed., and thinking he was the culprit attempting to escape, seized him. Merriment ensued.

NEW BRIDGE NEAR BRIGHTSIDE IS COMPLETED

Diligent work by State Road crews this week finished raising the bridge at Brightside in Niles Canyon. Started early last week, construction was rushed by two shifts, in order that heavy trucking traffic should be delayed as little as possible. During the period of building, traffic was reported over the Mission Pass.

Using the foundation of the old bridge, the state workers added approximately three feet in height to the structure. Great care was taken to make the bridge safe for heavy loads.

Approaches at either end of the new bridge have been widened and raised, and brush and rubbish in the creek bottom cleared up.

Ever since its construction several years ago, the old temporary bridge had been a dangerous place in the canyon road. Several large trucks came to grief there.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. W. Richards, and several friends from San Francisco, on October 8 tendered Mrs. Theresa Richards a dinner party on the occasion of the latter's seventy-second birthday. Following the dinner, served in the appropriately appointed dining room, Mrs. Theresa Richards was the recipient of a number of gifts. Mrs. T. Richards has been a resident of Niles for many years.

DRIVER FAILS TO SIGNAL TURN; 3 HURT IN ACCIDENT

San Jose Man, Wife and Baby Injured In Decoto Smash

Elgin B. Hulbert, of 35 South Fifteenth street, San Jose, suffered serious injuries, and his wife and year-old child cuts and bruises, at 10 o'clock Monday morning when his car crashed into the coupe driven by Mrs. Harriet D. Knight, of 1906 Eighth street, Bakersfield, as she made a U turn on the highway near Decoto, assertedly without signaling.

According to reports, Mrs. Knight, coming from Oakland, had intended to turn into the Dumbarton road, but drove past it before she could stop. Evidently planning to double on her tracks, she proceeded to make a U turn without signaling, it is said.

Hulbert, also driving from Oakland, crashed into the Knight woman's car just as it was broadside across the road, overturning it. Hulbert sustained a broken wrist and ankle and serious cuts and lacerations. His wife was cut by flying glass, and his year-old son, Jerry, was bruised. All were treated by a Niles physician. Mrs. Knight was unhurt.

INTOXICATED; HITS TEAM; GETS 20 DAY TERM

Just intoxicated enough to render his reactions a little slow, Joe Harara, of Decoto, Monday swerved his car into a team of horses owned by Lewis Silva, of Alvarado, and as a result was Tuesday sentenced to twenty days in the county jail by Judge Allen G. Norris.

The accident occurred near the Sugar mill at Alvarado, where a string of teams and trucks were waiting to discharge their loads of beets. Harara reacted too late to stop when a machine in front of him did, and swerved into Silva's team. Neither of the horses were injured.

Frank Alaimo visited his parents in San Jose Sunday afternoon. Several of his brothers were there.

SANTA CRUZ WOMAN HURT IN SABBATH CRASH AT MISSION

Collides With Car Driven By W. T. Nilson, of Pleasanton

Swerving across the road on the long grade south of Mission San Jose at 8:15 Sunday night, the automobile driven by Miss Ethel Hughes, of Santa Cruz, grazed the fender of an oncoming car, crashed head on into the machine driven by Walter T. Nilson, Pleasanton attorney, they plunged over the fifty-foot embankment.

Miraculously escaping fatal injuries, the Hughes woman was extricated from the wreckage of her car, and taken to a nearby physician. She suffered cuts about the head and neck.

Nilson, city attorney of Pleasanton, was unhurt. His wife and two children were bruised and shaken up in the crash.

According to witnesses, the Hughes machine, traveling south on the grade turned out to pass another car. Momentarily out of control, it narrowly missed a shallow culvert, grazed an approaching car, then swerved across the highway directly into the path of Nilson, who was unable to avoid the ensuing smash. The Hughes car came to rest at the bottom of the steep fill after hurtling over the edge.

Occurring as it did, on the filled portion of the road, the accident held up traffic for some time.

Comment was passed at the scene, on the lack of the usual heavy fences where ravines border the road. Authorities later explained that the new fill, built up only a few weeks ago, must settle before a solid guard rail can be installed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL MEET AT HIGH SCHOOL NEXT MONDAY

Civic Group Pledges Support of Scout Fund Drive

Concluding that all Washington township civic groups should show an active interest in the Washington Union High school, the Niles Chamber of Commerce voted Monday to hold its next meeting in the cafeteria at the high school at Centerville.

A. J. Petsche, chamber secretary, conceived the idea last week when he had occasion to lunch in the school cafeteria. He discussed the plan of the chamber luncheon with Principal A. J. Rathbone, who acclaimed the suggestion and stated that the chamber would find everything supplied for their convenience.

Chamber president, F. V. Jones, in lauding Petsche's plan, said that the high school luncheon next Monday would be particularly appropriate in view of the fact that next week is Education Week. The civic group agreed to a man they would be on hand.

Deploping the disorganized condition of the dairy industry in California, the El Centro Chamber of Commerce Monday communicated with the Niles chamber, asking the latter to add its voice in a plea to the Federal government that something be done to alleviate the ruinous conditions now existing. Supervisor Richmond, stating that the dairy industry is of vital importance to the state, moved that the chamber write to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace concerning the matter.

H. L. Scott, chairman of the baseball team committee, made a report on Sunday's game. He said that although the Niles boys are

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

Individual Liberty Vanishing

The proposal of A. Reardon, State Director of Industrial Relations, and appointee of the insufferable Rolph, that the federal government pay cotton pickers 20 cents of an 80-cent per hundred weight, leaving to the growers, of course, the differential of 60 cents, the prevalent scale at the present time, is quite in keeping with the statesmanship of Sacramento and Washington.

A year ago, could any sane man imagine a responsible public official proposing that the taxpayer be bled to meet some industry's pay roll! No, the thing would not even have been thought of, and such a principle in government could not be envisaged in America. Yet here it is; and in the nation's state of mind, befuddled by financial worries, we may embrace this dangerous idea to cool the temper of aliens on strike in the cotton fields. Applied there, to what lengths may the experiment not be carried!

The so-called "New Deal" is shuffled with a pack of cards that Western civilization never before has seen. The colors of the cards remain the same, but in the place of the black suits we have the black shirts of Mussolini stamped on the faces. Diamonds and hearts are thrown out of the pack, and in stead we find the face of Stalin staring at us from the "hand" we draw, the edges bordered by the red stars of the Soviet Union.

It is with this pack of cards that free-born Americans are playing today their new deal, which we take, was to be a better deal than the one that for over one hundred and fifty years has been winning for us the richest, happiest, most progressive nation on earth.

Suffering a three-year depression, brought on by the wasteful world war and our meddling in European affairs, the people of America have become bewildered and dismayed. In many instances they, and especially their leaders, have become worse off than that; they have become hysterical. The cry has gone up, "Save our pocketbooks. To hell with our liberty!"

Because our finances have not gotten immediately better, in a hurry—that in throwing away about fifteen billions of dollars saving the unappreciative national existence of England, France, Belgium, Italy and a few more second-rate powers—because our money has not come back to us out of the thin air, nor through the medium of the United States government issuing billions in bonds, the average person imagines that there is something wrong with our system of government. It is not the system, dear reader, that is wrong; it is to some extent those who were intrusted with the system; but the real trouble here and all over the world is that "he who dances, must pay the piper." For fourteen years we put off paying the piper, by the subterfuge of the foolish expedient of attempting to make future generations pay for us. The holocaust in Europe that bled the white man dry, left the inscuritable oriental untouched and, today, defiant. The slant-eyed militarists of Japan have not been slow in understanding the hazy brain of Western Europe and the young republic of America. They have done as they pleased in Manchuria and parts of China proper. All the result of the insane war between peoples alike in habits, aspirations and religion.

Instead of settling down to rigid economy, personal and political, the people here in America have wanted to eat their candy and still have it. They have wished to go on as before, with fifteen billions burned up in the fireworks of war. So they have, under the present administration, turned to a cross-eyed mixture between Facist Italy and a bastard child of Socialism. They hope to get their dollars back, and their good times, and bright lights. They would open up again the cabarets of the city and the country side; ride again in the high-priced cars; spend a modest fortune on a social front, as they did before they began paying the piper for his tune—a tune so gay before 1929, but now ringing in their ears like a dirge of death. If they can get those fat years back again, why worry

The boys are collecting all papers and magazines possible and will sell them when they get a large quantity on hand. Anyone having any papers they wish to dispose of have been asked to get in touch with any of the boy scouts or with V. Bernard Johnson, scoutmaster, at the grammar school.

Last week in Pleasanton has been boy scout week. All the scouts have been wearing their scout uniforms and large posters displaying scout activities have been put up on all the windows of the Pleasanton business houses.

Negro Farmer Walks 60 Miles to Plead Guilty

Mobile, Ala.—George Roberts, thirty-six, negro farmer, walked 60 miles from his home in Choctaw county to reach Federal court here and plead guilty to indictments charging him with the sale of five gallons of liquor.

Judge Robert T. Ervin was so moved by the case that he made the sentence just one hour in the custody of the United States marshal.

Roberts began his sentence and in five minutes was fast asleep. When he awakened he had been a free man three hours. Meanwhile a collection had been taken up for him by Deputy Marshal Will F. Collins, and he was presented with a railway ticket back home.

25-Year-Old Love Pact Between 3 Carried Out

London.—With the wedding of Mrs. Mary Helen Barker and John Weatherald in Tow Law, recently, a love pact made between twin brothers 25 years ago was carried out.

John and James Weatherald developed an attachment for Mrs. Barker, who is a widow, a quarter of a century ago. One of the brothers became engaged to her, and the other was so downcast in losing her that the three agreed that the bride-to-be should become the housekeeper of the twins, and that if one died she should marry the survivor. James died four months ago. John is now seventy-nine and Mrs. Barker sixty-seven.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

It seems as if it were only yesterday when a group of officials, engineers, prominent citizens, newspaper men and others, gathered at 195 Broadway, to witness the beginning of voice communication over the Atlantic. Nevertheless transatlantic telephone conversations now are merely a part of business and social routine. For many, picking up a telephone and calling London is no more than picking up a receiver and calling Newark. The cost is much greater, true. But there are some to whom even that makes no difference. For instance, there was the moving picture queen who had a beau in London. She called him up from Hollywood frequently and not only talked with him at length, but held her pet dog to the transmitter so that her friend in London could hear the animal bark. And a dog barking at $10 a minute is something.

Then there was that boy in London who received a mail order catalogue from a Chicago house. In it was listed a rifle that cost $3.75, which interested him very much—so much indeed that he picked up the telephone and talked with the mail order house about the $3.75 rifle in a $75 call. Naturally, the telephone company endeavored to collect. The boy's parents, in moderate circumstances, set up the claim that a minor had made the call without authority; therefore, there was no responsibility. In the end, the company accepted the few shillings the lad had in the bank as a settlement in full.

It costs $30 to telephone to London from New York. But it is considerably cheaper to telephone from London to New York. The reason is that when the contract was made between the American Telegraph and Telephone and the British post office, which operates the English wires, the value of the pound was fixed at $5. Thus, the rate for a three-minute conversation was—and still is—six pounds. But at the present rate of exchange, six pounds amount to around $24. So wise Americans save $5 or so by cabling to London and having the call originate from there. But transatlantic telephone charges can't be reversed, the British refusing to countenance such a practice. And some one gave as the reason that London is so close to Scotland.

Just a line or so before leaving the subject of transatlantic telephone. The best patron is said to be James J. Walker, former mayor of New York, who is journeying in Europe but who likes to keep in touch with the city where he was once looked on as a hero.

Of course that tire would go flat in a part of the city where there wasn't a garage within blocks and the rain was falling hard. But finally a small place was discovered and the mechanic in charge said he'd grab his tools and go up and fix the flat. A burly man with a jutting jaw and a hard face, he didn't seem like one to be chosen for a stroll up a dark alley. When he had gathered his tools, he stopped. "Sweetheart will be awful lonesome if I leave her here alone," he said. "Mind if I take her along?" There wasn't any remonstrance at all, so he whistled and a little yellow dog of very uncertain ancestry leaped into his arms.

On the way to the car he kept the dog dry with his coat, and before starting to work, placed Sweetheart inside. "I think a lot of that pup," he explained. "Once I had fifty grand. Lost it in four minutes in the market crash. Now I'm pretty well down—don't average ten hours' sleep a week because I have to work all the time to get by. A lot of my friends've passed me up. But Sweetheart ain't, so I've got one pal left, anyway."

Tree With Date May Be Clue to Stolen Money

Grant's Pass, Ore.—A huge manzanita tree in the hills near here may be the clue to buried loot obtained in a stage coach robbery years ago. The date, 1890, the year of the robbery, is carved on its trunk, with the initials MLP and DBP, followed by the words "Go to Hell." The tree is located near where the robbery occurred and where the loot is supposed to be buried. All the robbers were slain by possemen.

Jonah Had Nothing on These Chickens

Goldsboro, N. C.—Tom McCullin of the Mineral Springs section of Grantham township was plowing recently, when he heard his wife scream. He rushed to the house and found a snake had chased a hen off her nest and eaten the eggs. The snake's locomotion was slowed somewhat by the hearty meal, and McCullin caught it, killed it, extracted the eggs and put them back in the nest before they turned cold. The hen hatched a fine brood of chicks from the eggs the snake stole.

Attempted Jail Breaker Is Sawed Out of Cell

Roseburg, Ore.—Pat Farren had a reputation to uphold as a jail breaker. In fact, he, Pat Farren, was a veteran at jail breaking.

So when he was temporarily incarcerated here in Douglas county jail Farren set out to live up to this reputation. But try as he might, he only succeeded in locking himself more securely.

Farren so completely wrecked the combination of the cell door locks he had to be sawed out of prison.

WHITE FRIARS ARE BACK IN BRITAIN

Were Ousted 400 Years Ago by King Henry VIII.

London.—After an absence of nearly 400 years the Carmelite monks, known as White Friars, return to an established place among monastic orders in Great Britain.

The White Friars, so called because of the white mantle worn over the brown habit, held wide influence and power in Great Britain until 1538, when Henry VIII ordered their headquarters in London to be razed to the ground. Their chapel and buildings stood between Fleet street and the Thames, adjoining the temple, which was founded by the Templars.

Whitefriars street still bears the name of the order, and a newspaper office in the district is called Carmelite house. But the monks have been gone for nearly four centuries, and were without a home in England until the Catholic bishop of Southwark assigned his churches in Sittingbourne and Faversham to their care.

The White Friars wore their mantles as a sign that the order was founded in Palestine. It was established on Mount Carmel in 1212 by a Crusader named Berthold. White Friars are not common, however, the two at Sittingbourne and Faversham being the only ones in England.

When their London monastery was founded during the Crusades the order immediately attracted royal support, and Edward II gave the White Friars great latitude. Their priory and church were rebuilt in 1350, when it was said that several hundred monks lived there, enjoying wide popularity both as preachers and confessors.

An example of their power is found in the fact that almost from the first the order had the right of sanctuary. Any fugitive from justice could take refuge there for forty days unless accused of treason or sacrilege. The right was retained until 1697, long after the monastery and church had disappeared. After the suppression of the monastery the place became a notorious haunt of outcasts.

The White Friars are altogether distinct from the other order of Carmelites founded by St. Teresa in 1562. Members of this group are known as Discalced Carmelites, because they wear sandals instead of shoes and stockings.

Birthplace of Christ Boasts Deep Sea Port

Haifa, Palestine.—The Holy Land, birthplace of Jesus Christ, has been increased in size by 90 acres.

This is due to reclamation in connection with the building of Haifa's new harbor, now nearly complete. Some of the reclaimed land will be used for harbor and customs purposes. The remainder is intended for a modern townplanning scheme. The new harbor, which is expected to be opened in October, has cost $8,250,000. The construction was begun in October, 1929. The main breakwater is, approximately one and a half miles long and consists of 78,000 square meters of stone. The lee breakwater is, roughly, half a mile long. The entrance to the harbor is 600 feet wide.

Transients Increasing Fast, Survey Reveals

St. Louis.—America's transient population is increasing at an alarming rate, a survey by G. M. Gwiner, director of the St. Louis bureau of homeless men, indicates. Gwiner estimates that there are more than 500,000 men and boys drifting about the country. Of these, more than 200,000 are boys under twenty years of age, he believes.

Trains coming into St. Louis daily bring between 2,000 and 3,200 uninvited guests, the survey, made in co-operation with railroad officials, showed. Most of these move on in a day or two, Gwiner said.

Cowboys Fail to Find Hitching Posts in Town

Laurel, Mont.—The automobile may not have supplanted the horse entirely, but parking spaces certainly have done away with hitching racks, two cowboys discovered in Laurel.

The cowhands rode into town, tired and dusty from a long trip. Officers invited them to move on when they attempted to hitch their horses in the business section. They tied their horses to some small trees in a park. Again came orders to move on.

"This town has gone plumb to h—l," commented the range riders with disgust.

New Guinea Tribe Bears Only Twins

Brisbane, Australia.—Doctor Fortune, of Columbia university, arriving here from New Guinea, tells of an amazing discovery.

The Monduguma tribe develops the trait of twin-bearing almost to the exclusion of single births. The doctor maintains it is due to a system of intermarriage between cousins.

The women of the tribe do all the work.

Lamburgers Replacing Hamburgers With Texans

San Antonio, Texas.—Buddle King, once an unemployed salesman, is whipping the depression by popularizing "lamburgers," a toasted sandwich made of lamb instead of hamburger meat. ## Firemen Play Practice Game With Merchants

Evidently finding league competition a little too tame, the Niles Merchants ball team Sunday took on the Niles Firemen in a practice game at the grammar school diamond.

Joe Machado did some fine twirling for the firemen, and for a time it looked like the Firemen were to be the victors. Clarence Crane, as relief pitcher, and Frank Silva, behind the bat, starred for the fire fighters.

Needless to say there were sore muscles Monday morning, but the firemen feel that they are a potentially powerful aggregation. They hint at future games.

CARD OF THANKS

SAFEMAY, MACMARR TO DISTRIBUTE MAGAZINE

Housewives who patronize local Safeway or MacMarr stores tomorrow will depart with a copy of a sparkling national weekly magazine tucked in among their purchases, according to plans made by Jack Nobriga, manager of the Safeway, and G. P. Viery, MacMarr manager in Niles.

Every copy of the "Family Circle," the name of the magazine, has been exclusively purchased by Safeway stores and will be distributed free of charge to customers in appreciation of friendly relationship between them and the stores.

Edited by Harry Evans, former Managing Editor of "Life" and the present cinema critic of that subtle weekly, "The Family Circle" is anything but a "booster sheet or houseorgan."

It's a smartly edited national weekly of over 1,000,000 circulation. Western readers have not generally been acquainted with the publication heretofore, as its circulation has been largely confined to Eastern subscribers. The contents of the magazine are designed to appeal to the entire family. Special departments of the publication include fiction of the highest type, cinema reviews and interviews, radio, fashions, cosmetics, humor, foods and contests.

The issue of October 27 will offer, among other outstanding features, a short story by Rupert Hughes, "It Isn't Forgiven Unless It's Forgotten"; "Informal Portrait of a Paradox" by Ilka Roberts; two pages of homemaking entitled "Bread Steps Out," by Julia Lee Wright, nationally known home economist and an etiquette article by the same author entitled "Little Things We Overlook;" and a feature story of Miss Helen Hayes by Harry Evans; an autobiographical article, "Rupert Hughes"; Robert Pilgrim's "Food Thought"; a section of cartoons and humor; a department for children with a comic strip featuring a contest, and a Jolly Jingles contest in which there will be $75 in prizes and 21 winners each week.

All together there will be three contests in the issue and the prizes will total more than $100 each week.

It will be to the advantage of the entire family to remember that beginning tomorrow, any person calling at either the Safeway or MacMarr store in Niles, regardless if a purchase is made, may obtain a free copy of "The Family Circle."

TASTY as milk

THINK of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil as you think of milk... they're so much alike; both so good for children—and grown-ups too. In fact, a single tablespoonful of Scott's Emulsion contains more vitamin A than does a whole quart of milk.

Vitamin A is what builds up the body's resistance to many diseases and minor ills—especially "colds" and the more serious complications which often follow.

What's more, Scott's Emulsion is also rich in vitamin D, so wonderful in building strong bones and sound teeth.

And, Scott's Emulsion is so easy to take—so pleasant to the taste—that children actually love it! Do try it. Pure, effective, and trustworthy for sixty years—and better today than ever. All druggists, 60c and $1.20.

THE BEST COD LIVER OIL IS IN SCOTT'S EMULSION—AND YOU CAN'T TASTE IT!

"THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH," WUHS PLAY, TOMORROW NIGHT

Slated for Last Week-End Was Postponed To Perfect Cast

Perfection of the play calling for a little more time, the high school student body production "The Goose Hangs High," slated for last Friday evening, was postponed until tomorrow night, according to reports from the high school this week.

Under the direction of Miss Audrey Godfrey, "The Goose Hangs High" bids to be one of the outstanding school plays ever to be staged. Ready to be staged last week, the added days of rehearsal will lend the play a professional touch.

The story of a middle class American family, with the parents stoutly maintaining that the education of their children is the prime aim in life, "The Goose Hangs High," shows the debacle caused by the fathers' loss of a job. Necessarily, the children, depicted as selfish young rogues, are expected to loudly protest the plugging of the horn of plenty. Their real reaction is the meat of the play. Exceedingly well cast, the production is bound to be good entertainment.

Miss Elizabeth Ogden and Mrs. Etta Holloway were guests at the Fred Dusterberry home Sunday.

SUNOL WOMAN IS GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY

A number of Pleasanton girls motored to Sunol one evening last week and surprised Mrs. Leta Gamble, the occasion honoring her birthday.

Mrs. Gamble was recipient of many lovely gifts. The girls enjoyed playing cards after which refreshments were served.

Those who went to Sunol were the Misses Dorothy Bairos, Evelyn Bell, Norine and Victoria Bianchi, Doris Grana, Gladys Rose, and Daphne Peters.

HUSKERS DOWN LOS GATOS FIFTEEN TO NOTHING ON FRIDAY

Centerville Boys Set For Pleasanton Go Tomorrow

Maintaining their winning stride last Friday afternoon on the Los Gatos gridiron, the WUHS Cornhuskers proceeded to whip the Los Gatos aggregation to a tune of 15 to nothing.

The initial score came in the form of a safety in the 2nd quarter, when George Medeiros, fast moving end, caused a Los Gatos back to fumble behind his own goal line. Frank Medeiros added 7 points in the same quarter and scoring was over for the half. In the second half in the face of stiffening Los Gatos opposition, the Huskers broke Raso loose on a lateral from F. Medeiros to Muniz to Raso, and the latter snaked his way to the pay dirt, in the last five seconds of the game.

Coach Regli put in his second and third string men in the second quarter, and withdrew them at half time when Los Gatos showed a disposition to score.

Some of the highlights of the game are: Ruel Brown's kicking in tight pinches, Raso's field generalship, Muniz work on defense, and the line. The line was Washington's strong point for the day.

Tackles were made at the line of scrimmage this time, and not in the secondary. Linesmen who looked particularly good were: Sam

Dinsmor, Sinclair, Amaral, Phippen, Wilson, and Manuel. All the rest were good too.

Some significant statistics show the huskers' superiority:

	W	LG
Yds. from scrimmage.....	160	80
Passes attempted.....	10	2
Passes completed.....	3	0
First downs from scrim.....	7	5

Tomorrow the Huskers enter the league game with Pleasanton at the Centerville field as favorites, but the boys are by no means taking their opponents lightly. Regli is drilling the men hard this week, in anticipation of a stiff contest.

RAILROADS DON'T NEED BLUE EAGLE DECLARES EASTMAN

The position of the railroads in respect to application of the national industrial recovery act is briefly outlined in a statement issued by Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation.

The statement is in the form of a memorandum prepared for President Roosevelt. Eastman expresses the opinion that the adoption of a code for the railroads "would not be wise, even if it were legally practicable."

Declaring that the railroads are dealt with under the separately enacted emergency transportation act, as well as under such previous legislation as the interstate commerce act and the railway labor act. Eastman says "there is no need for a code of fair competition" for the railroads, which "are subject to more comprehensive public regulation than any other privately-owned industry in this country, if not in the world."

He had seen no indications, he said, that railroad employees generally desire a shorter work day without an increase in hourly rates of pay and that it is both impracticable and undesirable for the railroads to increase their rates and revenues to meet an increase in wage expense.

GEORGE SELLERS IS NEW MANAGER AT MACMARR'S

George Sellers, of a Walnut Creek MacMarr store, is the new manager at the Pleasanton store. He took up his duties as manager there Monday morning of last week.

Tom Pugh, former manager, was transferred to the Livermore MacMarr store. His many friends here regret his leaving and wish him a lot of success in his new location.

HUNTERS PLAN USE OF TRIPODS FOR HEAVY GUNS

Crack football teams have doctors and trainers, according to Frank Madruga, secretary of the Washington Township Gun Club, so why not the same for sporting organizations.

When asked why his gun club should have a trainer, Madruga, gloomy of countenance, answered that two of his best hunters were benched with "12-gauge shoulder" and upon further questioning gave out this tale: Joe Jason and Mike Salvadorini, eager to get in trim for the approaching duck season, each purchased a new extra full choke, long-barreled automatic twelve, then jauntily prepared for a little limbering up. They were amply limbered, in fact they were unstrung, and both appeared the next day with pained expression, and with padded shoulders. The guns are at the smithy's being papped too, Madruga hopes his ninmors will be back in shape in a few days.

'PAGE FROM THE PAST' TO BE THEME FOR COUNTRY CLUB MEET

Joseph R. Knowland To Address Group On State History

Mrs. W. Fuller, state chairman of nature study in the federated clubs, will address the Country Club ladies on the value of nature study at a meeting at the clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, October 31.

Open to all who are interested, and who care to attend, the talk gives promise of being intensely interesting.

On November 7, the Country Club will hold its next regular meeting in the form of a "Page from the Past." Designed as a meet of historical interest the afternoon will offer a program of statewide as well as local significance. Speaker will be Joseph R. Knowland, who will address the group on California History and Landmarks. Highlights of local history will be woven into the general theme.

An appropriate musical program has been planned, in keeping with the theme of days gone by.

Featured at the meet will be a display of old fashioned articles which each member is urged to bring with her on that afternoon. Each item in the display will have an historic value, which will be explained by a card appended to the piece.

All members who wish to do so, are urged to wear old fashioned dress.

Tea will be served by the music and program committees.

BLUE EAGLE SALE STARTS TOMORROW AT KIRKISH STORE

After several months of planning and preparation, the Kirkish department store, at Centerville, will start its Blue Eagle Sale tomorrow morning. J. Kirkish, proprietor, has been busy during the summer buying up first class merchandise at the prices then prevailing. He is passing the benefit of the low prices along to his customers in the sale that starts tomorrow.

According to Kirkish, dry good prices are bound to soar in the next few months. He advises buying at the present time, not only to take advantage of fine merchandise at surprising prices, but to assist in the general recovery. The sale will continue for 14 days.

In order to prepare for the numbers of customers that will take advantage of the sale, Kirkish has put everything in shipshape. Shelves have been lowered and filled, and tables arranged so that inspection of the goods is made easy.

"UTILITY TAXES take State out of the red"

THAT was the headline which many newspapers used for an article sent out in news dispatches from Sacramento on September 20th.

State Controller Ray L. Riley announced that day that payment of Seventeen Million Dollars in taxes by California utilities had given the state's general fund a favorable balance for the first time in many months.

It permitted him to return three million five hundred and fifty thousand dollars which had been borrowed from the highway fund to avoid the registration of general fund warrants.

This is merely one indication of the importance of your utilities to your state.

Out of every dollar you pay to Pacific Gas and Electric Company for your electric service, 14.5 cents represents taxes. Of this 14.5 cents, 9 cents goes to the maintenance of your state government.

In the next two years the state's tax income from the utilities and the insurance companies will be $71,847,000. That is nearly 25 per cent of the state's total revenue. It is more than the $70,000,000, or 24 per cent, which is estimated to be obtained from the retail sales tax.

The utilities do their part — and a large part it is — in the support of the California state government.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—(UP)—Payment of $17,000,000 in taxes by California utilities resulted in the state's general fund showing a favorable balance for the first time in many months, State Controller Ray L. Riley announced today. With receipt of the public utility tax payments, Riley immediately ordered return to the highway fund of $3,550,000 borrowed to avoid registration of general fund warrants. This transfer reduced to $3,400,000 the general fund's debt to special funds.

The above refers to the first payment made to the state's general fund for the fiscal year 1933-1934. A second payment will be made in March.

LANDSCAPE WORK AT AIRBASE SETS RECORD FOR PACIFIC COAST

California Nursery Co. Using Native Flora at Moffett Field

Progressing under the $22,000 contract awarded last July 31st to the California Nursery Company, of Niles, landscaping work at Moffett Field, Sunnyvale Naval Base is now two months along. The development is the largest of its kind ever undertaken by the federal government on the Pacific coast.

Three hundred coniferous trees, ranging from 10 to 25 feet in height are being trucked from the California Nursery grounds here. Eight thousand broad-leaved trees and shrubs and the planting of 40 acres of lawn will follow in the next six months.

Twenty-five men are at present engaged in the planting operations under the direction of Emery A. LaVallee, landscape engineer of the Pebble Beach, Del Monte and other noteworthy public and private landscaping developments in Central and Northern California.

According to Nursery officials the use of indigenous California plant life in a scheme to create a California atmosphere is the main factor in the design. The major groupings include sequoias, pines, cedars, cypresses, oaks, bays, madrones and their kindred neighbors the toyons lilacs, Catalin Cherry, Fremontias, Oregon Grape.

"OUR CAULIFLOWER NEEDS COOL DAYS," LAMENT GROWERS

Planting their cauliflower with hopes for a cool fall season, growers for the past week or so have been distracted by the continued warm weather, as irrigation became necessary a second time to save the crop.

According to cauliflower farmers the hot days of the past weeks have injured the crop to a considerable degree.

A winter crop that thrives on cool weather, the vegetable is harvested late in the fall or early in the winter.

Register for better printing.

etc. Suitable exotics have been generously distributed in the plan to maintain continuity and proper respect for combinations. A park line effect will be presented by the bays and recesses in these plant groups which are sharply defined by contact with the lawn carpet over all exposed ground surfaces. Native oak trees and privet hedges will flank the several roads.

The design is so landscaped that a succession of flowers will bloom in the stations colors throughout the year, with a marked display of bright orange and red berry effect beginning in the early autumn and lasting until the early spring.

Areas for lawn have been carefully analyzed and fertilized, and deficiencies in the soil have been corrected. Lawn areas to be arranged with sprinkling systems are to be sowed with seaside bent, while the larger expenses will be a mixture of seaside bent and red top.

According to statements made by George C. Roeding, Jr., California Nursery head, the job is one of the largest ever to be undertaken by a single concern. He stated at the time the contract was awarded, that only the most perfect stock was to be used, all effort being made to create one of the most beautiful and original landscaping effects in Western United States.

DARKNESS STEALS NILES VICTORY ON SUNDAY

With the score at 17 to 13 in favor of the Hayward Eagles Sunday at Niles, the Hayward manager asked that the game be called on account of darkness, just at the time that the Niles Merchants, with no outs and two men on base, were planning a rally. The manager of the Niles team noted that the ball was invisible and agreed. The score will be, in all likelihood, recorded as a tie.

A trifle too eager, the Merchants rallied too late to win the game before darkness settled.

Wes Raso proved to be the most dangerous Merchant hitter when he stepped to the plate in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and rapped out a howling home run. With the score almost tied, Niles seemed almost assured of a victory.

Among notable things in the game were: G. Mederos' sensational catch behind third, Mederos' and Duarte's pitching and L. Pine's triple.

Niles box score:	AB	H	R

FIRE HOUSE PAINTED

With the last window frame carefully painted, and the fire siren resplendent in a shining new coat of scarlet paint, the Niles fire house is now a credit to the town, thanks to the energy of the members of the department. Started some time ago, the work has been progressing leisurely, in order that a thorough job might be accomplished.

P. A. Ellis, ill for some time, is about again. He is able to tend to his business at his store a short time each day.

Editorial Comment

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

if the individual's liberty slips away? What, after all, is liberty if one cannot dance and sing? What indeed!

Ah, fellow reader, you may not realize it now, but very soon you will terribly regret the present trend of events. Liberty, you will soon learn, is worth more than money. The writer would much rather lose his newspaper properties and everything material he possesses, than lose his freedom to write as his conscience dictates, or speak as his heart prompts. Good times will come again, with or without the consent of government, if left alone. If you lose everything now but your liberty, you are still rich; but sell your liberty for a fortune, then you are so poor, God pity you and your children and your children's children.

Emergency Loans Being Made By Federal Land Banks

"Emergency loans" to forestall imminent foreclosure of mortgages on farm properties and save owners from eviction are being made by the Federal Land Bank in circumstances of extreme urgency, President Willard D. Ellis of the Land Bank said today. He cited an instance when, upon the recent personal appeal of a widow, owner of a fruit ranch, who faced foreclosure within twenty-four hours, the holder of her mortgage was persuaded by long distance telephone to suspend execution of foreclosure and a Land Bank appraiser, reached by wire, was dispatched at once to make an appraisal of the property preliminary to consideration of a loan.

"It has been the policy of the bank to consider making such loans in cases of desperate emergency," said Ellis, "for that, in an extreme sense, is the spirit of the laws creating the Farm Credit Administration."

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. R. A.

The Fable of the Phoney Veneer

By GEORGE ADE

© Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.

ONCE there was a Young Man with a 30 Per Cent Slope above his Eye-brows and an Open Space where his Chin should have been. He had taken three full Courses in a Correspondence School which told the Provincial how to acquire Personality but he had not yet annexed enough to help him in flagging a Street Car.

Always he seemed to blend into the Surroundings, just like a Piece of Furniture. If he started to say Something in Company, that was the Signal for all the Others to begin talking. He could stand in a Department Store for Hours without being waited on. He was King of the Strap-Hangers and held the World's Record for being pushed off the Sidewalk by the white-faced Snips who walk three and four abreast.

In every Generation there are certain Men who leave their Impress upon the world. Mr. Effingham Glitts had not made as much as a Dent. He was compelled to use Influence to get his Name into the City Directory. His Mail consisted of Catalogues and Propositions in regard to the Purchase of Books on a Weekly Payment Plan.

A Slogan Swallower.

If Mr. Glitts often pondered on Death and decided to postpone the Shuffle as long as possible, it was because he knew darned well that his Funeral would be a Flop. Just a couple of Calla Lilies and some Boys from the Office to Pull-Bear.

Effingham was a good deal of a Gnat but he did not enjoy his destiny. He found it very irksome to be rated as a CIPHER. He looked like something that is found asleep in a Back Row after an illustrated Lecture on the Holy Land, but he had within him all of the turbulent Ambitions of a Napoleon. He had a smoldering Desire to bite on the Ankle all those who had been treading on him.

Probably what fussed Mr. Glitts more than anything else was the gloomy Fact that the Female Sex regarded him as a Swozzle. He could walk on the crowded Avenue for Miles and Miles and never get the Eye. He was cursed with all of the outward Appearances of one who is signally Moral. The Girls certainly co-operated to help him behave.

Mr. Effingham Glitts was old enough to have a Home of his own, a fine Job at a sweet Salary and a Standing in Society. He saw Men of his own Age being elected to Congress, building Sky-scrapers and bossing Railroads. Whereas, he sat at a Desk and handled some of the piffling Details of a large Corporation. His Desk was over in a dark Corner, commanding a view of a Brick Wall and some overhead Wires. The English Sparrows would sit on the Wires and look in at Effingham and pity him.

The World had superimposed itself on Effingham Glitts as effectively as an Elephant might, in a spirit of utter Callousness, squat on a Caterpillar. The Fact that he was not crushed is all to his Credit. When he attempted to get up on his Hind Legs and crow he was a Bloomer, but let it be told to Future Generations that, at least, he made the Try.

It was about a year ago that Mr. Glitts decided to stop playing the Third Assistant Grave-Digger and be the curly-haired hero. When an Insect starts out to be an Eagle that is some Contract, but Effingham was hopeful and determined. He had been on a Diet of uplifting Editorials and nice hot Slogans. He had been devouring these inspirational Pieces on how to achieve Success. Most of them had been written by salaried Hacks who owed Grocery Bills.

Had Good Intentions.

Mr. Glitts believed anything that was printed and framed. Every time he read one of those highly original Instructions hanging above a Desk he resolved to be himself and keep on smiling and do it now and not worry. He wanted to obey all of the Rules which had helped so many Humble Beginners to work their way up to $1,800 Jobs. So he made all his Plans to emerge from the Hay each A. M. and greet the newborn Day with high Courage.

He had it straight from a 15-cent Magazine that every Mortal can get away with Anything if he has the Nerve to jump right in and get a Strangle Hold on the immediate Problem. The only Failures are the poor Goofs who have no Confidence in themselves. Strike boldly and demand Attention and the World will greet you as a Conqueror. Beautiful Maidens will scatter Posies in your Pathway. Head Waiters will prostrate themselves. Bankers will smile and cut the Interest Rate. It sure reads well and it had Mr. Glitts completely hyped. He went to his Couch one Evening as a low-grade Mokus and arose next Morning as a strong and silent character who was going to pry open the World as if it were a soft-shell Clam and incidentally get the Women all worked up about him and then smile sardonically as he watched them Suffer. Possibly our good Friend was a little feverish under the Fedora when he formulated this high Resolve but he meant well and he sure made a decisive Stab at Greatness.

Views of California's $2,900,000 alternate Ridge Route, which shortens distance between San Francisco and Los Angeles by 9.6 miles. Above a section of the 36 foot cement concrete highway at French Flat. Below a 206 foot cut in Piru Gorge and two of seven bridge structures.

On his Way to Work he gave some crisp Orders to the Menial who was in charge of the Trolley Car. The Conductor did not recognize His Master's Voice so he called Effingham a Piece of Gorgonzola and told him that if he didn't cut out the Blah-Blah he would have to take a Bat in the Eye. In the Articles which Effingham had been reading there had been no definite Suggestions as to how a Situation of this Kind should be met, so he got off the Car and walked.

For a good many years he had been longing to go into the Private Office and tell the Boss just what was wrong with the whole Organization and how it would be a cinch to double the business and cut down the Overhead if the Departments could be managed by Men whose heads were filled with Brains instead of Omelets.

The Chief Executive looked up from his Work and there on the Rug was a Worm trying to give an Imitation of an Anaconda. The Head of the Firm listened patiently. When it was over he did not give Mr. Glitts the Fresh Air or even start in to tan him. He advised the faithful Employee to lie down for a while and then go out and have his Temperature taken. So that is how near Effingham came to causing a Shake-Up.

Back to Nature.

When he sternly reprimanded the Typist who did a few letters for him every Day and gave her a Lecture on the Importance of spelling correctly all Words of One Syllable she never missed one Jaw Movement as she chewed her Wax but she did tell him that he was the kind of Fish that ought to stay home all Day instead of wandering out into the Streets and frightening Pedestrians.

He couldn't even High Hat the lowly Office Boy. The Latter was afraid of the nut-headed Flappers but he had the greatest possible contempt for Mr. Glitts and called him a Gooble, which doesn't mean anything, but sounds terrible.

For a long time it had been Mr. Glitts' secret Desire to plant a Bomb under the Boarding House in which he was eking out a Miserable Existence. The Landlady was so busy counting the Calories and providing for the Vitamins that she forgot to give them any real Food. Effingham longed to bawl her out in such Loud Tones that his Complaint could be heard in Cuba.

So, while he was still under the Influence of the Complex of Superiority, he opened up and made a Scene at Dinner. It was called Dinner because it was served at about the Hour when People who can afford to Dine usually partake of the meal known as Dinner. Always the First Course was Soup which tasted as if some one had slipped Something into the Hot Water. The only real Excuse for calling it Soup was the fragment of Vermicelli floating idly on the Surface.

Effingham let out a Squawk, which is Hol Pollot for Protest. He told the Soup the Truth about itself so that he could get a Rise out of the Landlady. He just sat back and waited for her to brag about the Home Cooking and the Refined Atmosphere.

He had framed a Come-Back which, probably, would lead up to his being ordered out of the Joint, Bag and Baggage. That was what he craved. He knew that he never could function as a Leader of Men while surrounded by the Flat-Hens and Tom-tits of a third-rate Beanery.

But the Landlady knew him and pitied him, so she just told him to be in his Room about 9:30 and she would come up and fix a Foot Bath for him and give him 10 Grains of Aspirin and in the morning he would be all right.

Sure enough he was. He awoke next day fully reconciled to the Fact that he would always be the Goat of the Universe. He decided that he would have to be a Slob instead of a Schwab. He flew at the withered Prunes with real Gusto and spoke nicely of the lukewarm Coffee. Also he had a Cigar ready for the conductor on the Trolley Line.

Invented Oil Lamp

We moderns who nightly obtain our illumination from incandescent bulbs are inclined to forget that the oil lamp in its day was an important improvement over older methods of illumination. Poland, however, has not forgotten, for it is to a pole, I. Lukasiewicz, a chemist from Lemberg, to whom they give the credit for the production of the first modern oil lamp, says the Scientific American. Poland celebrated recently the fiftieth anniversary of the death of this benefactor of mankind and the eightieth anniversary of his development of the oil lamp. According to Dr. Kazimierz Maslankiewicz, who supplied this information, Mr. Lukasiewicz also was the discoverer of means of purifying and distilling petroleum.—Detroit Free-Press.

MUNICIPAL DEBTS TRIPLED SINCE WAR

Interest Costs Cities 17 Per Cent of Income.

New York.—American cities pay out 17 per cent of their income as interest on bonded indebtedness. Because of growing tax delinquencies throughout the country, these fixed charges are making it very difficult for many cities to balance their budgets, Carl H. Berets, head of a New York investment house, pointed out in an interview. Since the war, the per capita indebtedness of American cities has tripled, said Mr. Berets, who, during the past year, has made an exhaustive study of the influence of municipal debts upon real estate.

"In some cities over 20 per cent of the budget is required for interest on the bonded indebtedness; in comparatively few cities does this charge run less than 10 per cent. When amortization charges are added for retirement of bonds, we find that as high as one-third of the income of a city may be needed to meet debt charges. These debts were contracted for the most part during the boom period, and in many if not most cases, are considerably out of line with present economic conditions, when reduced incomes are calling for substantial lowering of taxes.

"In New York and other large cities where large office and hotel buildings have been constructed, taxes have not declined in keeping with the lower price level of commodities, with the result that the operators of these buildings find themselves paying taxes which may be double what they should be under the changed economic situation. These high taxes, with their roots in the fixed debts of the cities, have been one of the chief causes of trouble for the holders of mortgage bonds."

Pointing out that the debt situation of American cities has been further complicated by the fact that most of the bond issues were for short terms, necessitating frequent refunding, Mr. Berets urges longer term financing for permanent municipal improvements. It is unwise, he said, to issue short-term bonds for an improvement which will be used for thirty years.

Raccoon Tracks

Raccoon tracks can scarcely be confused with any others. The footmarks resemble those which might be made by a small slender-fingered hand. The fingers and toes normally appear well spread, in contrast with those of woodchucks and skunks.

Cafeteria Service for Birds Provided by Pup

Lansing, Mich. — The morning chore of his Airedale pup is to give the birds their breakfast, according to J. L. Heath, of this city.

The Airedale is not ready to start the day until he is given a slice of bread which he carries out of the house. He finds a favorite spot where he lies down with the bread in his mouth and waits for the birds to come and get it.

The birds know the game and pick at the food, which is held for them until it is consumed. The Airedale abandons his routine only when a strange dog tries to muscle in. Then there is a lively scrap.

Not Scriptural Quotation

The phrase, "He tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," is not, as some have supposed, a Scriptural quotation. It is a variation of the line from "Maria," by Laurence Sterne (1713-1768), "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb." This may be traced back to a passage in "Jacula Prudentum," by George Herbert (1593-1633), "To a close-shorn sheep God gives wind by measure." About 1594, however, Henri Estienne wrote in "Premises, etc.," "Dien mesure le froid a la brebis tondue" (God measures the cold to the shorn lamb).—Exchange.

Why did you buy this NEWSPAPER?

SUPPOSING that, beginning tomorrow, all the newspapers are discontinued. What a furore the public would make "News! News! We must have news or we will be no better off than the ancients." All right, suppose we give them news but cut out the advertisements.

Then you would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports, the activities of the police and criminals add little or nothing to the real comfort and happiness of this greatest age in the world's history.

Advertising is the NEWS of all the looms, of all the furnaces, of all the laboratories, of all the shops, of all the stores, of all the world, AND ALL WORKING FOR YOU.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once cost a king's ransom are yours at little prices. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, producer against producer, for your benefit, forcing out the best there is in everything and telling the world about it.

Read advertising. Keep abreast of today. Advertising furnishes you with facts and opportunities that otherwise you would never know.

NEWARK WEDDING HIGHLIGHT OF SEASON

Olive Dolores Lewis, of Newark, became the wife of Clarence Thomas Rose, of Irvington, at a ceremony in the Newark Catholic church on Sunday afternoon. Father Bray officiated at the ceremony and a bridal march was played by Edward Kittman when the party entered and left the church.

The bride was dressed in white satin with a lace jacket, and a veil, carrying a lovely bouquet of white carnations. The bridesmaid was attractively attired in yellow taffeta, a matching yellow velvet cap and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

After the wedding a reception for the bride was held in her mother's home and later in the afternoon they left by car for Los Angeles where they will spend a week to return on next Saturday. When the couple return a "Tin-Can", for them will be held in Silva's hall.

MORE ON CHAMBER OF

A little over eager at the present time, he feels that they will soon settle down into a smooth-working team. The Sunday game, played against the Hayward Eagles, was called on account of darkness in the ninth inning with the score tied.

With interest mounting in the Pet Parade to be staged tomorrow morning at 9:00, E. Dixon Bristow, grammar school principal, in charge of arrangements, told the Chamber of Commerce of latest developments in plans for the occasion.

Bristow also spoke on the Boy Scout fund drive to be started on Saturday, October 28, and to continue until Saturday, November 2. He told of the value of Scouting to the modern boy, saying that it had a priceless place in a boy's life during the swift changes now taking place in the design of living. As head of the drive in this district, Bristow asked for the support of the Civic group. F. V. Jones, erstwhile chairman of the Scout Fund committee, lauded Bristow's stand and supplemented a plea of his own for the co-operation of citizens this year.

NAVY RECRUITING MEN BETWEEN AGES 17-25

Chief Yeoman Cannon, in charge of the Navy recruiting station at San Francisco, located at 100 Harrison street, announced this week that the navy is now accepting men between the ages of 17 and 25 for enlistment. He stated that the navy is now doing selective recruiting, and that men applying for enlistment must be citizens, of good character, physically fit, not married, and of average intelligence. A high school education is not required. Men with police or juvenile records will not be considered for enlistment, Cannon said.

Applicants must make application in person at the San Francisco office or one nearest their home, and as only a limited number of men can be enlisted in any one month, Cannon suggests that men residing in Niles and Washington township, take advantage of this opportunity and make application immediately in view of the fact that from one to two weeks is required to complete his investigation under the new selective recruiting system.

ROYAL SCOT, CRACK BRITISH ISLES TRAIN, DRAWS MULTITUDE

Washington township had a brief nocturnal glimpse of the Royal Scot, crack British train, Monday evening, when it passed through Newark and Alvarado on its way from San Francisco to Oakland. The English train had been on exhibition in San Francisco on Monday.

Although darkness made seeing difficult, many township people waited along the right-of-way to see the Royal Scot pass.

Sunday morning, a number of people from Niles drove to San Jose to view the train as it arrived from Los Angeles.

Composed of a string of eight cars drawn by a London Middle and Scottish engine, the Royal Scot presents a striking appearance. It has a soft piping whistle, which spectators in the United States thought was quite funny. It is said that countryside residents in England appreciate it. The Royal Scot came to America as an exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago.

The rocks exposed in the Coyote hills, near Newark, geologists say, are in the oldest geologic series exposed on the west coast.
